

Tim and Colleen Stevenson Missionaries to Uganda

Ministry Focus

- Under Global Missions, they are serving the church in the area of project development in Uganda, Rwanda, Congo (DR), and South Sudan.
- They manage the TAPP (AIDS ministry) program.
- As they work with Kinderhilfswerk, they are expanding building programs, well drilling and sponsorship programs.
- Both are serving on the board of Heritage International School, an international school located in Kampala.

The Stevenson's began serving in Uganda as special assignment missionaries, initially working to build and develop a single educational institution. Since then, they have developed 163 Church of God schools in Uganda, as well as starting others in neighboring countries. They assist children in sponsorship programs, either within the schools or in personal networking through programs such as Children of Promise (United States), Furaha (Canada), Kinderhilfswerk (Germany), or Compassion International and Samaritan's Purse.

Tim and Colleen, both missionary kids, came to Africa as young children and have been part of the developing continent since the 1950s and 1960s respectively. Their four children—Tiffany, Natasha, Jesse, and Logan—continue as the third generation of their family who have enjoyed the beautiful continent and the hospitality of its people.

With years of experience, a passion for the work of God and the African continent, Tim and Colleen are an example of what missionary life is—sacrifice, dedication and teamwork.
